DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

2. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

3. Claim 4 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

4. Claim 4 is not further limiting. The claimed particle size is outside the range of the claim from which it depends.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

5. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

6. Claims 1-4 and 9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Giesecke et al. US 6,489,382.

7. The rejection set forth under 35 USC 103 in the paper mailed 11/30/07 is deemed proper and is herein repeated.

8. Applicants newly amended claims and remarks filed in support thereof have been fully considered but have been found not persuasive.

9. Applicants have amended the claims so as to limit the particle size of the polymer particles to be 50 to 100 nm. It is argued that the patent does not identify the claimed particle size. While such may be the case, this is not a patentable distinction. It is acknowledged that the patent is silent as to the particle size of the polymer particles. The claimed particle size remains anticipated and/or obvious from this patent. The polymerization process disclosed in the patent is understood to produce polymer particles. The particle sizes claimed are conventional and obtainable with the use of the colloids and surfactants disclosed within the patent. Applicants have failed to show or allege that the polymer particles of the prior art are, in fact, outside the scope of the claim. Further, there is no showing of allegation of unexpected results with respect to the claimed particle size.

10. The claimed styrene butadiene and/or isoprene is clearly obvious from the listing of suitable monomers at column 6 lines 50-60. Here styrene, butadiene and isoprene are specifically identified. Case law has well established that it is prima facie obvious to select ingredients from a list and have them function in an expected manner. Once again, there is no showing or allegation with respect to the specific monomer combination and the particle size.

11. The table and portion of the specification identified have been fully considered. This does not represent the prior art and fails to compare particle sizes. As such, it does not sufficiently rebut the prima facie case of obviousness.

12. The fact that the art does not teach the use of the resultant polymer as a paper size is not germane to the patentability of the rejected claims. There are no limitations relative to the end use of the polymer obtained.

Conclusion

13. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
